BOWERMAN BREAKS DEADLOCK

HIS TWO BAGGER WINS A GAME FOR THE NEW YORKS.

Brooklyns Shut Out by the Champions -Pittsburgs Beat St. Louis, Cincinnatis Take Couple of Contests Frem Chicagos and Philadelphias Whitewash Bostons.

The New Yorks shut out the Brooklyns yesterday, which gave them five victories out of the series of six games. The Cincinnatis won a double header from the Chicagos and thereby passed into the first division and pushed the Cubs back to fifth place. Pittsburg was too strong for St. Louis, and Philadelphia whitewashed Boston. The New Yorks to-day start on a trip that will keep them on the road until June 24. The results New York, 3; Brooklyn, 0.

There was only one inning at Washington Park vesterday in which there was any scoring, and the New Yorks were the ones who were actively engaged in that pursuit. The Brooklyns were shut out by the Champions, although in every inning but the eighth they were successful in repelling boarders. In the eighth the New Yorks concentrated their fire on McIntyre, made three hits and three runs and won the game. Good fielding and good pitching were the dominant features of the game, the hits as a rule being scattered and the support generally stanch.

In the second inning the Brooklyns made two singles, and there was only one out at the time, but the home team slipped a cog in its base running. Lewis singled and went to third on Dobba's hard liner, which got and then moved for second on the first pitched ball. He slowed up, when he could easily have reached second, in order to draw a throw and give Lewis a chance to try for the plate. Bresnahan relayed the ball to Taylor, who threw to Dahlen. Dahlen ran Gessler back so fast that he was put out before Lewis could make up his mind to dash for the goal.

Lewis made a three bagger in the fourth inning which looked good for a home run but Babb held him at third, and he perished there, as Dobbs was thrown cut at the first and two were out when the triple was made. McIntyre's effectiveness kept the New Yorks from scoring in the sixth inning, after Bowerman had opened it with a safe hit to right. Bresnahan, Mertes and Dahlen went out on flies. Ritter opened Brooklyn's half of the eighth with a single, and again faulty base running spoiled an opportunity. After McIntyre had fould out Hitter falled to get back to first in time to keep from being doubled on Sheckard's high foul to Bresnahan.

TRACK MANAGERS TO CONFER

E. R. Thomas Arrives at the Track Too Late to Take Part in a Killing With Lady Amelia-Lewisohn Makes Biggest

Bet of the Day-Keene Gets Nicol. in a few days to consider the advisability of grand stand, $1 for Women and 75 cents for the field. The falling off in the attendance yesterday and the slim business in the betting ring, compared to old times, was a further argument that some sort of action must be taken in the near future. P. J. Dwyer, president of the Brooklyn Jockey Club, when asked about the situation said:
"No meeting has been called as yet, but that there will be one soon I feel reasonably sure. At present I am the under dog and must stand all the kicks, but time will probably regulate this important question." Meanwhile, the Mets are still figuring how they can induce the tracks to cut the present high tariff, and it is said that they have several plans to submit when the time comes by which they can hand over some sort of revenue that will not make any trouble from a legal point of view. In the ring yesterday the Mets, eighty-one of them, did a lot of grumbling when they found that the five non-members in the front line had been ordered to take positions together on the extreme end of the line near John Cavanagh's stand. This proved to be a vantage point of much benefit to the holders, and the Mets, unable to realize that at present they have no privileges, growled until they were tired. E. R. Thomas was in anything but a pleasend track yesterday. He left the city in his big automobile about noon with the in-tention of taking part in the killing that was pulled off in the second race, with Lady Amelia, who ran in his colors last year, but is now ostensibly the property of Mr. Thomas's trainer, R. E. Watkins. The Thomas auto was bowling over the Ocean Parkway at a fast clip, when suddenly something went wrong with the machinery. It was impossible to repair the damage until a trip to a garage a mile away had been made, and when the millionaire got inside of the track gates he literally ran on to the lawn just in time to see Lady Amelia's number hoisted as when the millionaire got inside of the track gates he literally ran on to the lawn just in time to see Lady Amelia's number heisted as the winner. But while Mr. Thomas did not have a bet down, there were others who made the bookmakers squirm with winning wagers. Lady Amelia opened at 10 to 1, and was soon beaten down to 7 to 2. J. Grant Lyman won $10,000 on her, while S. S. Brown bet $1,000 at sixes. Frank Tyler and Bud Meyer each put down $1,000 at fives and all the clubhouse commissioners, including the heavy betting Johnny Walters, had a piece of the good thing. E. E. Smathers's money did not show on Burleigh in this race, though J. H. McCormick risked $200 on him. Louis Snell, Charley Cash and Will Applegate had $500 bets on Phaebus. Henry Hoffman and Tom Costigan took Goldsmith, who was a hot tip and was backed down to tens. Wille Kerryhart had $200 straight, $200 a place and $300 a third on Big Ben, with Albert Green playing Kenilworth to win and third.

Green Room, the winner of the first race at 13 to 5, was extensively played. His owner, Bennington, got down $2,000 straight. Leo Mayer bet $2,300 a place. George Riordan, Counselor Lichtenstein, (Sol's brother, and Tom Costigan each wagered $500 on the colt to win, with Hency betting $500 a place. Sol Lichtenstein lost $1,000 on Klingsor, and Pat Shannon followed his lead with $500. Joe Ullman took Montanus for $500, and so did Costigan. Sol, by the way, took a bet of $25 straight and $25 a place on Green Room from Terry McGovern.

Frank McKee, the theatrical manager, had $500 on Oarsman, the winner of the thirdrace at 8 to 1. J. L. Holland cashed a similar bet, and Philadelphia Fred Eshner had $500 on Oarsman to show. Eddie Burke dropped $1,000 on Ocean Tide, Peter Wimmer's mare, who was tipped early and often. Joe Yeager bet $1,500 straight and $1,500 third on his filly Canteen, who ran third. Ed Stutte had $500 on this colt, with Alcek Shields, Charley Cash, Billy Dubois, the "Counselor," and Sol Lichtenstein placing each $1,000 the same way. Bim the sol on the Paget three-year-out. Foll Fair-sail fancied Sparking star for a good bet. J. Donahue placed $400 against $1,000 with Tim Payne on Merry Lark, and G. F. Johnson was among those who fell for Van Tromp.

— S. S. Brown's Youth, a colt by Henry Yeung—Miss Richmond, caught a lot of smart money and was backed down to 4 to 1. His owner dropped $1,500, with Leo Mayer, Jack McDonald. Dave Gideon and Lewisch mechburning up $1,000. Sidney F., on the other hand, was backed off the boards, 8 to 5 being the price a moment before the horses were sent away, and many of the laxers turning their slates. Bennington started the plunge, when the cads were 3 to 1, and went the rounds until he had wagered $2,500. The Lichtensteins were each down $1,000, with Louis Snell, J. Grant Lyman and some of the clubhouse agents also in liny. Lyman also bet $500 on Enoch Wisnard's California King, who after being played from 40 to 1 down to twelves was practically left at the post.

George F. Johnson, owner of Colossal, who won the last race at 8 to 1, had only $100 straight and $100 third on the colt. Lyman lost $2,000 on Grand Duchesse, who carried his slas, and Mark R ordan was also hit for $500 in the same spot. L. O. Appleby got rid of $500 in the same spot. L. O. Appleby got rid of $500 on his colt, Thistledale, who closed at 5 to 2.

James R. Keene, through his trainer, James Rowe, made a deal yesterday by which he recured second call on the services of Jockey Nicol who came East last week with Fred Cook's horses in the care of Trainer W. M. Phillips. Nicol was a star at New Orleans last winter and is regarded as one of the best lightweights in the saddle to-day. He is under contract to Fred took, but the Keene contract to Fred took, but the Keene down annually from the Cook stable and other owners will make him earn close to $30,000 this season. Mr. keene already has first call on "Puddin" McDaniel, the midget, who sprang into prominence during the Los Angeles meeting last winter. In the first race yesterday. McDaniel, who ha -Winsome III., who ran second, for $1,860. Clay receiving in all $2,260 as the result of the transaction.

T. C. McDowell, president of the American Turf Association, arrived here yesterday with Alan-a-Dale, Bad News and other racehorses. WillsWoodward, another Westerner, got in withla string including Debar, a crack two-year-old filly, who recently won the Nurgery Stakes at Louisville. Woodward brought along a jockey named W. Blake.

There were no new developments in the Hildebrand case. The jockey was on the ground, and his manager, W. H. Schaut, notified the stewards that he had severed all relations with him for the present.

Just before the first race an old man with a cotton umbrella and goldrimmed spectacles looked over the program and said to a byestander:

"Here's a hoss named Cassini after that there Russian fellow down in Washington. As the Russians are always second in their contests with the Jans, I guess III play this here hoss second." So he wandered to the back line and bet a dellar at 60 to 1. When Cussini ran second, the old man beamed on his neighbors and spent the rest of the afternoon vainly looking for similar good hunches.

DERBY WON BY CICERO. Maher Up and a New Record for the English Classic.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

LONDON, May 31.—The race for the Derby
Stakes was run at Epsoin to-day and was won by Lord Rosebery's Cicero. M. Edmond Blanc's Jardy was second and Chevalier E. Ginistrelli's Signorino was third. Nine horses ran. Cicero was ridden by Danny Maher, who also rode Rock Sand, the winner of the race in 1903.

Cicero was an odds-on favorite at 4 to 11.

The odds offered against Jardy were 4 to 1 and against Signorino 50 to 1.

The time of the race was 2 minutes 39 3-5 seconds, a record. Jurdy represented Blanc's seventh attempt to win the Derby. The only French horse that has won the Derby was The weather was perfect to-day, and the road was one of the largest in the history of

This is Lord Rosebery's third victory in the Derby. He won it in 1894 with Ladas and in the following year with Sir Visto.

The Derby ranks among sportsmen as the first of classic events on the turf. It was founded in 1780 by the twelfth Earl of Derby and is run at Epsom, Surrey, on the Wednesday before Whitsuntide, as provided by the terms of its establishment. Entries for the Derby are registered in the middle of the first year of the horses proposed for competition, and the entry fee is £50. So many colts and fillies look good at the age of six months that the entries usually total 300, but by the time the event arrives the field is brought down to twenty or thirty. Formerly the forfeit was helf the entry fee, thus adding considerably to the receipts of the track, but of late years a nominal forfeit of £5 has been exacted.

The honor of winning the Derby is unquestioned, and King Edward VII., when Prince of Wales, competed each year for it, being twice successful. Americans have twice won it. In 1881 Pierre Lorillard's froquois, rated as an it to 1 shot by the English sports, carried off the purse of £5,923 from a field of thirteen.

In 1901 Volodovski, racing in the colors of the late William C. Whitney, won it and for the second time gave America the credit. In the year pravious, 1900, the Prince of Wales's Diamond Jublice was the winner.

The Duke of Westminster has been one of the successful owners, having scored four wins with Bend Or, 1880; Shotover, 1821; Ormonde, 1886, and Flying Fox, one of the famous horses of the turf, in 1899. Following have been the winners: 1902, John Gubbins's Add Patrick; 1903, Sir J. Miller's Rock Sand and 1904, Leopold de Rothschild's St. Amant. This is Lord Rosebery's third victory in

CADET GAME AT PRINCETON. Army and Navy Football Teams to Fight

PRINCETON, N. J., May 31.—Arrangements have been completed between West Point J. B. Fine of the Princeton Athletic Advisory Committee to-night said that representatives from both institutions had recently visited Princeton, and after inspecting the football Prof. Fine said no inducements had been ment schools to hold their annual game here, but that the two institutions had decided to play in Princeton because they had long wished to hold their game in a representative college town and outside of a big city, and Princeton, being centrally located between New York and Philadelphia, was selected.

As to the matter of accommodation for the crowds, Prof. Fine said there would be no trouble about that. Arrangements will be made similar to those for the Yale game. The Princeton stands last fall could accommodate 22,500 persons, with standing room for 2,500 more. It is possible to build the stands much higher than they were last fall, and by doing this places for about 28,000 persons ought easily to be provided.

Annapolis, May 31.—Capt. W. F. Halsey to-night explained the change in the battle-ground for the Army-Navy gridiron contest from Franklin Field, Philadelphia, to the Princeton field. The authorities here express appreciation of the courtesy extended to them in the past by Pennsylvania, and understand her inability to grant their request for a larger allotment of seats in future contests. No steps were taken until after the Pennsylvania deal was entirely off, after which Princeton was approached. This resulted in the signing of the agreement in Philadelphia yesterday by which the Army gets 7,500 seats on one stand and the Navy gets 7,500 on her stand, instead of each receiving only 6,100 apiece, which was all that Pennsylvania could let them have. The Midshipmen are pleased with the change, as they will be benefited by the increase in tickets. ment schools to hold their annual game here, but that the two institutions had decided to

Bennington Takes Two Purses With Green

Gloomy weather and the natural falling off in attendance following a holiday seemed to restrict the crowd at Gravesend track yesterday to the regulars, 75 per cent. of whom were patrons of the field. In all but one race the fields were large, which provided plenty of speculation as to the winners. The Carlton Stakes, for three-year-olds at a mile, further demonstrated the ste quality of Sydney Paget's Cairngorm, has been a hard horse to beat, under all sorts of conditions, all the spring.
